The California Employment Development Department (EDD) is granting a 60-day extension to file state payroll reports and/or deposit state payroll taxes without penalty or interest for employers experiencing hardship due to COVID-19. Under the CARES Act, an additional $600 from the federal government is included in all UI claims. For the most up-to-date information, visit the CA EDD COVID-19 resource page

However, you must remain able and available and ready to work during your unemployment for each week of benefits you claim and meet all other eligibility criteria. If you're eligible, benefits can range from $40-$450 per week.
- Work Sharing Program
Employers can apply for the Work Sharing Program if they are looking for alternatives to layoffs due to reduced production, services, or other conditions. This program allows employers to keep trained employees so that when business conditions improve, the employer avoids the expense of recruiting, hiring and training new employees, and saves the existing employees the hardship of becoming fully unemployed. Hours must be reduced by at least 10 percent but not exceed 60 percent. For more information, visit the CA EDD Work Sharing Program page
